CORNING HIGH SCHOOL
Corning, Iowa

Mr. Harris, the 1960 Red Raider is yours. Yours for motivating those who came in contact with you by creating within them the desire to learn. You have devoted your time, energy, experience, and skill to the teaching of American Government, American Problems, Physical Education, wrestling, and football. You show your patience and sincere helpfulness in being a Junior class sponsor.

This is just a small token to show our gratitude.

Remember the first day of school when we greeted old friends and were assigned to new classes? How about the football games and the half-frozen spectators; the Homecoming Parade with the beautiful Queen, decorated floats and old grads?

Then with the approach of winter came the basketball season. Tense with excitement we cheered our teams on.

In the midst of all this came the much anticipated Christmas vacation. After a social whirl of parties and dances we returned to the old grind. In no time at all the second semester had begun and we could say that half of our school year was behind us.

Then along came the basketball tournament and fans went wild while teams played their hearts out to win. Between the excitement of the basketball games were the close wrestling matches.

All of a sudden it was spring. Students began cramming for final exams. Prom committees were appointed and a theme was chosen.

At last the big day arrived. Summer vacation was finally here. With all the confusion and excitement behind us we look back over a year WE'LL REMEMBER!

THEIR WORK BENEFITS OTHERS

When a question has you up a tree
And you think you've looked from A-Z,
Perhaps you'd better ask assistance.
Success still comes with dogged persistence.

There are 214 new books in our library. This includes 75 dictionaries, a set of World Book Encyclopedias, a set of Science Encyclopedias, and 1 Van Norstrand's Scientific Encyclopedia.

Each Y-Teen meeting is started by saying the Y-Teen creed. Here we see the Y-Teen girls reciting it. The creed is said to help Y-Teens develop higher ideals of personal and social living. It is being lead by President Linda Houck.

The Y-Teen organization also develops leadership, as we see here. Every girl of Y-Teens is a member of one of many committees. Here they learn the skill of being able to carry on the work of the organization.

JANE COTTER

Jane Cotter, a Senior received the honor of being chosen to the All-State Band.

The Corning Instrumental Music Department is a member of the Iowa High School Music Association contests for bands, orchestra, small groups, and soloists. The department is divided into concert and marching band groups which make many public appearances both at home and away each year. Student conducting and music assistants are two features of this department.

Marching Band

Hats off to the Corning High School Marching Band for their fine performances during the marching season.

Many out-of-town trips were made by the marching band in representing our school. Some of these were to: Creston, Ames, and Clarinda.

New and different drills and patterns were presented at all the home games. The band led the homecoming parade and also the parade presenting the queen at the game.

Much credit should go to this organization for helping create spirit and enthusiasm, and presenting very enjoyable half-time performances at the football games.

JUNIOR FLOAT

Using "Trap the Rams" as the theme for their float, the Sophomores also trapped first prize. Their float was represented by a large trap, and in this trap was a ram.

SENIOR FLOAT

"Charge It To Victory" was the theme chosen for the Senior Class float. The theme was carried out by a large cash register.

The Juniors chose "You Can't Worm Your Way Through Our Wall" for the theme of their float. A large worm that squirmed as the float moved carried out their theme.

SOPHOMORE FLOAT

The Freshmen had good luck on their first try by winning second prize on their float "Boil 'em in Oil." Their theme was carried out by having a big kettle with a ram boiling in it. Football players, football field, and boiled rams carried the theme further.

FRESHMAN FLOAT

The Corning High School Red Raider B and with the help of the Cheerleaders led the 1959 Homecoming parade. They boosted school spirit by playing the school song throughout the parade. Different formations were enacted by the band as they marched down the street.

BAND

Well! Well! What do we have here!

Go Raiders, Go!

Roaring flames licked at the night sky as Raider football fans gathered for a bonfire pep rally at the bottom of the main street.

It soars with an explosive roar of enthusiasm and howling screams of success; it tumbles suddenly into momentary silence only to burst forth again in a greater glory. This is school spirit.

One great and convincing voice blasts out encouragement and flinches with every blow landed by the opposition. Delirious joy and the depths of sadness are both a part of Raiders spirits. Whether it is the Victory Cry or the raucous shouts of snow fighters, Red Raiders are ready for action.

Hard work, hard play, and life is running over with excitement.

Beeeeeeeeeeeeet Glenwood!

Hey all You Raiders!

Our excited fans!!!

Just relaxin .

Victory, victory that's our cry. V-I-C-T-O-R-Y. This proved to be true at our 1959 Homecoming Game when we beat Glenwood with a close score of 18 to 13.

The school spirit was high tonight as the Red Raiders were full of enthusiasm. Everyone attended this big event which helped lead the Raiders to victory.

At the close of this exciting game, the high-spirited voices of the fans could be heard singing "We are the Raiders, Mighty, Mighty Raiders."

Coaches urge team on.

Action!!!

Down on their knees for victory.

The office staff is made up of a group of volunteer girls and boys who assist during their free periods in the office. This staff is selected from commercial students as much as possible. Answering telephone calls, typing, duplicating materials, distributing mail, and checking absence and tardiness reports are some of the valuable services they render. They also take money to the Bank and deposit it for the Treasurer and deliver mail to the Post Office.

IN APPRECIATION WE SAY.....

The staff is indebted to Mr. Cochran of Cochran Studios, Des Moines for the individual pictures, and the several group pictures used in the annual.

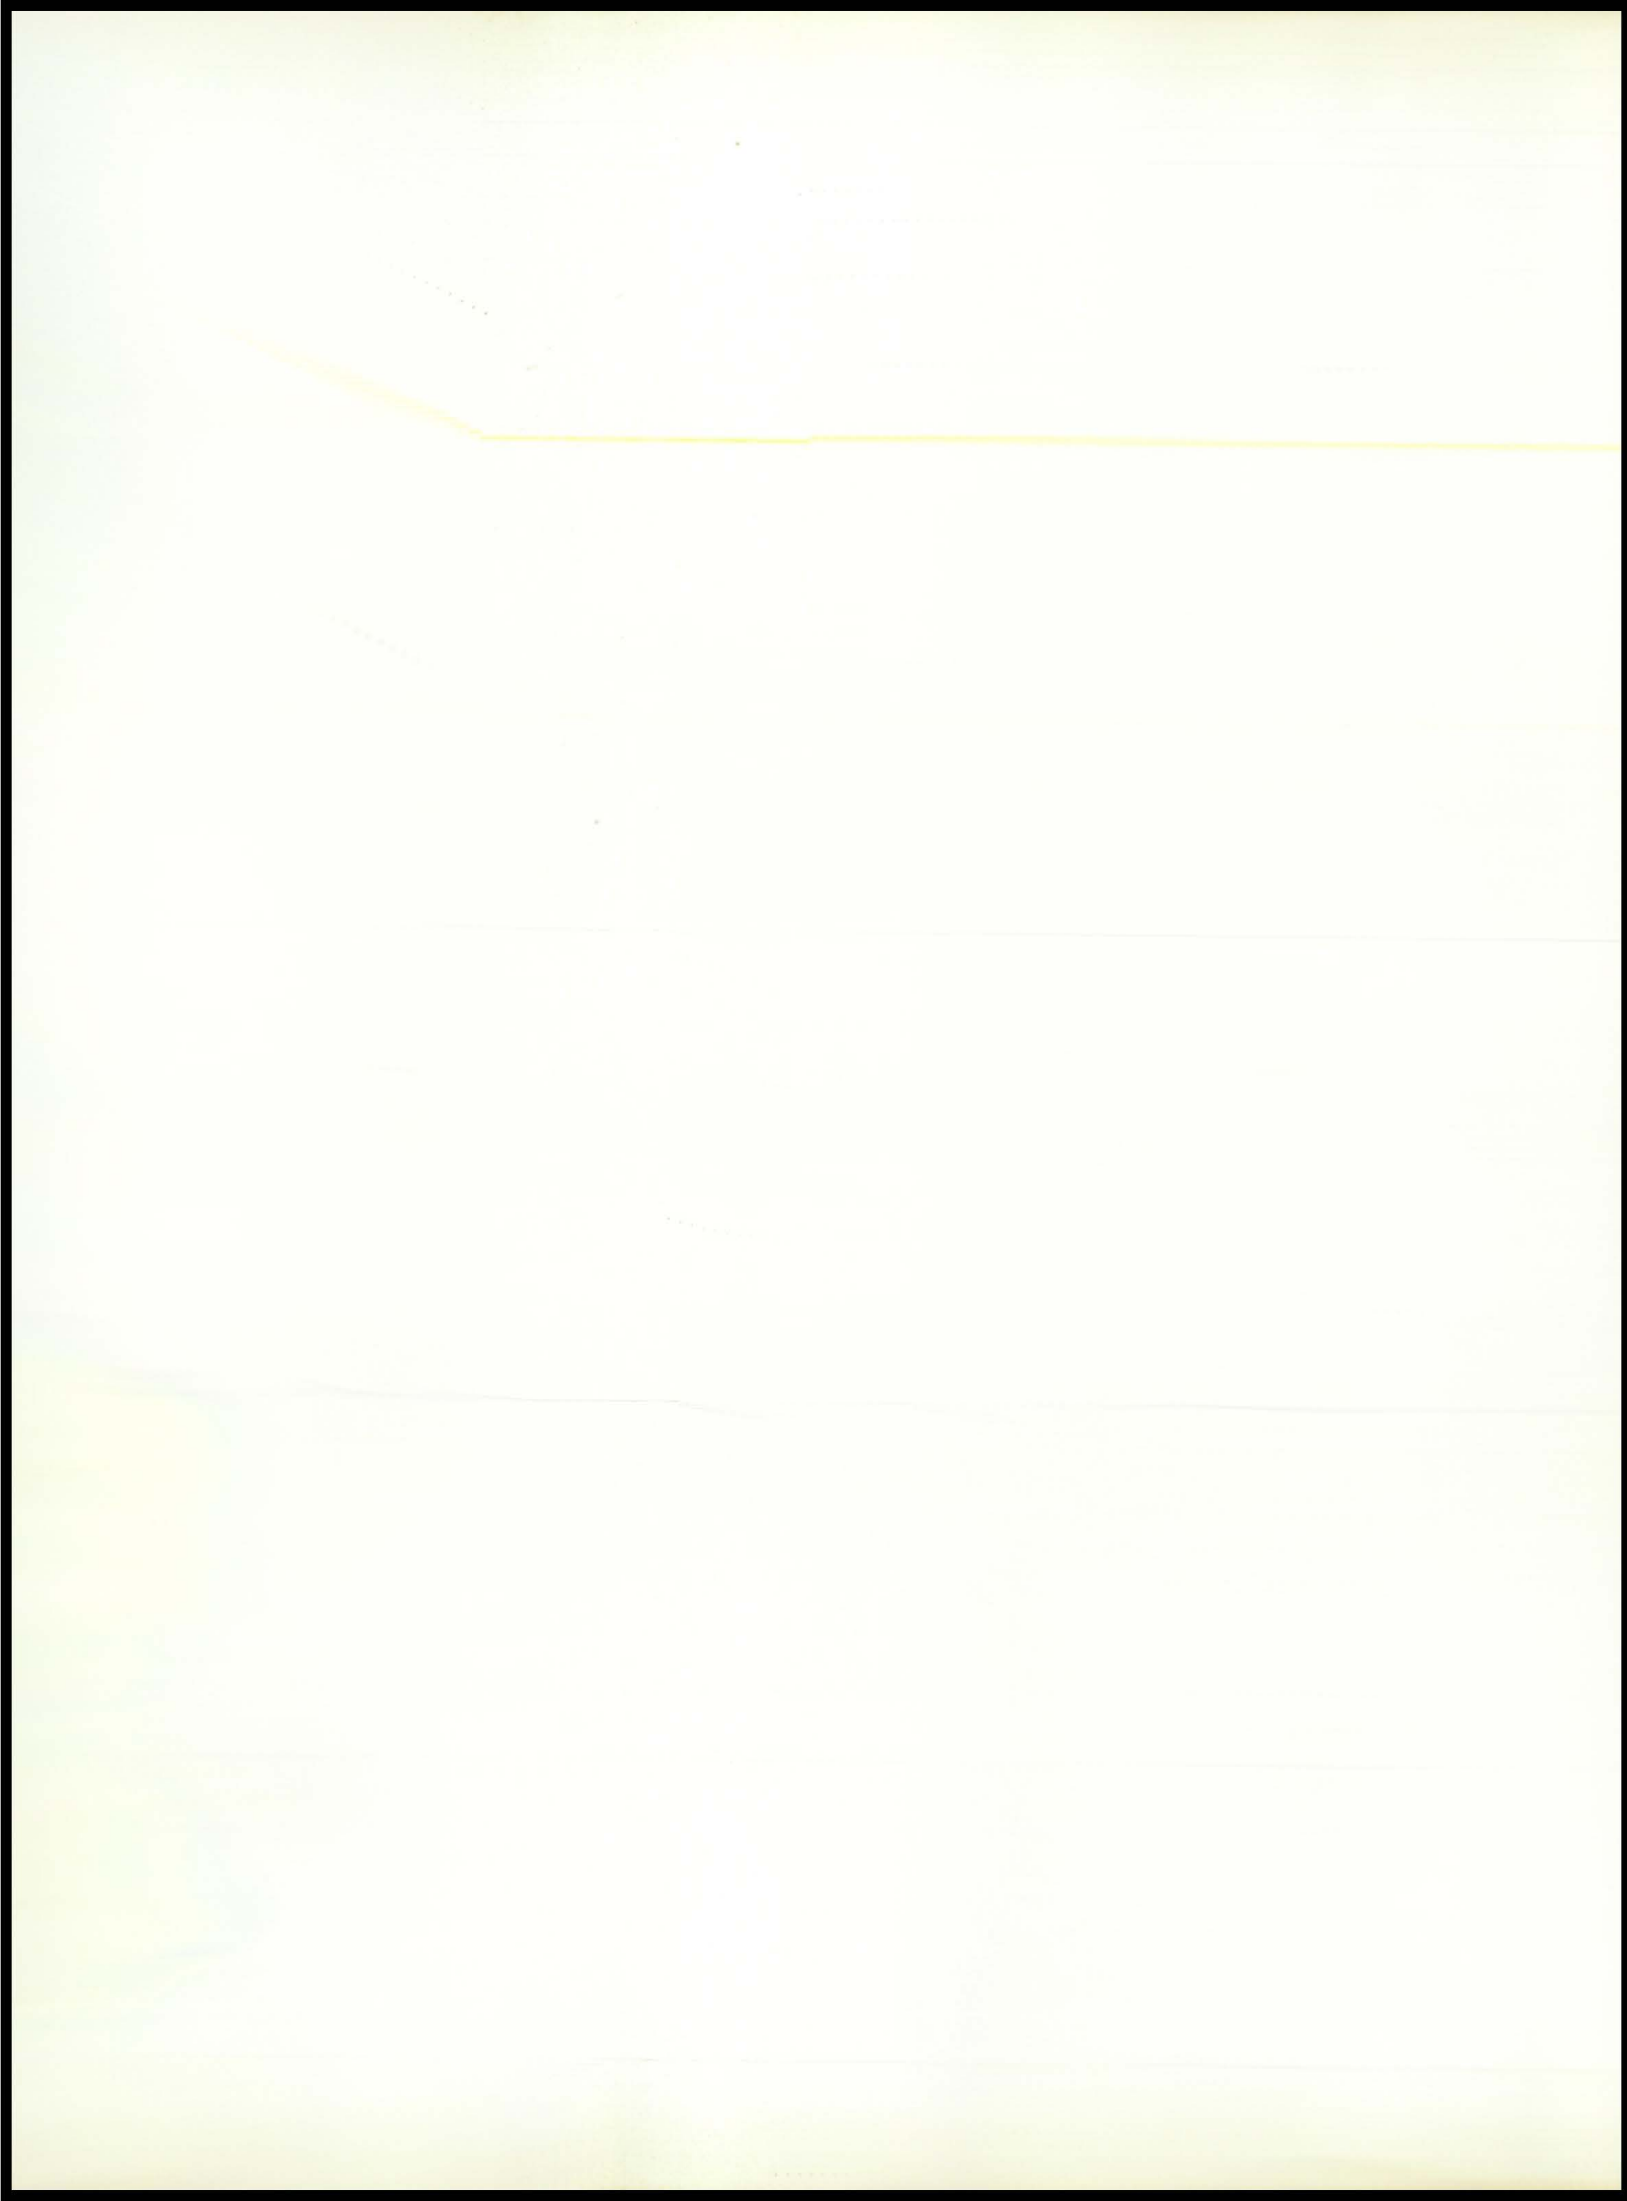

Special appreciation is now given to Phil Gauthier for his co-operation in taking action and group pictures of special events and for the work he completed for the annual on division pages. Without his help these many other action and special groups would not have appeared in the annual.

To our advertisers a special thanks is given in helping us set up our new advertisement section. May the students of CHS show their appreciation of their support by patronizing the merchants mentioned in this section.

Thanks goes to the administration and faculty for allowing us to break into class routine so that pictures could be taken during the school day. Your cooperation in these matters is deeply appreciated by the entire staff.

And so for another year the annual staff leaves you with this theme: "WE'LL REMEMBER."
